Dedication

To our Principal, Mr. Harold B. Mennes, who in the short time he has been here, has proved himself a capable leader, an efficient principal, a real administrator, and above all, a loyal friend to all the students and faculty of Neenah High School, we of the Rocket Staff dedicate this memoir of our high school days of 1946.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Chas. H. Velte, Secretary; M. L. Ridgeway; H. E. Bloom; J. H. Levandoski; T. C. Epps; Roy J. Sund, Vice President; Leo O. Schubart, President.

The members of the Board of Education are elected by the city voters for a period of three years. They have the responsibility of directing Neenah's public schools and appropriating money for the schools.

The Board of Education is organized under a Wisconsin statute which specifies that each city must have a board to direct and control the schools of the city. Foremost in their minds is the maintenance of an adequate system of good quality at the least cost to taxpayers.

This year the board has been studying the problem of new school buildings. Because of the recent increase of population in Neenah, the present high school building has become overcrowded and inadequate. The board is also considering plans for the vocational and grade schools. All students of Neenah High should be grateful to the Board for their fine efforts in our behalf.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

C. F. Hedges

Mr. Hedges, superintendent of the Neenah public schools, acts as chief executive officer of the board of education. As head of the board, he takes the lead in administering to the affairs of the schools. He prepares the proposed budget, presents it to the board and sees that it is carried out after it is approved. He directs and supervises the work of all employees and nominates candidates for positions in the school, to be voted on by the board. The instruction, classification, and promotion of pupils is done under his general direction.

Besides his duties as superintendent, Mr. Hedges is on the Library Board and the Board of Vocational and Adult Education. He is also a special deputy of the State Industrial Commission and is chairman of the Junior Red Cross in Neenah. For many years he has been the guiding light for Neenah's school system which can attribute its success to the untiring efforts and the capable leadership of our superintendent, Mr. Hedges.

Not only in Neenah but also throughout Wisconsin and the Middlewest, Mr. Hedges is recognized as an outstanding educational leader.

This year, more than last, we began to get acquainted with our new principal, Mr. Harold B. Mennes. During the 1944-1945 session we had no real introduction to him and hardly knew more about him than that he was our new principal. Now we recognize him as a man of determination and perseverance; a man who likes to get things done; a man who we can be proud to say is our principal. He has shown a remarkable sense of duty in managing the affairs of the school. By his advising and helping the students so capably and so ably working with and guiding the faculty, we have all come to recognize his fine leadership.

Mr. Mennes has had a very illustrious record in the educational field. When he graduated from St. Olaf he received a bachelor degree with a major in chemistry. Then, after studying at the University of Wisconsin, he received his master's degree in education. In addition to those degrees, Mr. Mennes has studied at the University of Cambridge in London, and Columbia University in New York City, and has completed his residence work at the University of Wisconsin for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

During the past year and a half, not only we have enjoyed working with Mr. Mennes, but he too, has expressed his joy in working with the students and faculty of Neenah High School.

Principal Harold B. Mennes

As guidance adviser, MR. CUMMINGS assumes charge of both the educational and vocational guidance programs. Regarding his work with educational guidance, he helps the students plan their courses so as to prepare them for the field that they will enter after high school graduation. He also gives aptitude tests to the seniors and freshmen. He serves in the vocational capacity by keeping the occupational files of the school. These files are used in various ways: for students to use in selecting a profession, and for the Civics and Social Problems classes in the preparation of vocational notebooks.

During the month of March, Mr. Cummings made a trip to New York City and Philadelphia to do research on guidance for the board of educatior. Besides his guidance work, Mr. Cummings teaches two geometry classes.

MISS PETERS, as dean of girls, devotes her time to helping them with their personal problems. She serves in many ways: she visits their homes, confers with their parents, finds homes for girls who live out of town and want to work near the school, checks their attendance, and in general does various jobs for them. If they are sick during school hours, Miss Peters gives them first aid and takes care of them.

Miss Peters manages the cafeteria in addition to her duties as dean of girls.

MR. CHRISTOPH serves as dean of boys, general science teacher, and director of the hall monitors. His duties as dean include checking make-up cards and attendance records, issuing permits for students to be excused from school, helping some students to form a work schedule, and giving assistance to the freshmen boys and other new students in making their adjustments to Neenah High School.

For these varied tasks Mr. Christoph receives too little credit for his untiring efforts and unlimited patience which are required of him.

SUPERVISOR OF SCHOOL PROPERTIES
Earl Brien

Mr. Brien, Supervisor of School Properties, serves as head of the maintenance department in the schools of the City of Neenah.

Ray Feinauer and Andy Peterson joined the maintenance staff when the school was nothing but floors and walls. Wally Gauger has served as janitor for about seven years and in addition to his janitor work has been the one responsible for the beauty of the school grounds. Mrs. Nobbe is the school's only janitress and has been on the school's staff since October 14, 1929. Her tasks include laundry and general cleaning. Mr. Longhurst does general work around the school and on the school grounds. Mr. Braemer does summer work at the school and serves as night watchman.

The janitors hold an important position in our school life and were it not for them, our school would not be as neat and orderly and attractive as it is.

Class of 1946 in Review

At last we're seniors, and this is our last year at Neenah High School. Soon we'll graduate and be among the ever-growing number of Neenah High alumni. Our four years of high school life will have been concluded. They were four years of attending classes and assemblies, enjoying football games, basketball games, and dances, and doing the countless other things which are part of high school life. These four years have gone by with astonishing swiftness, but it is natural that they should, as time passes quickly when there are so many enjoyable and interesting things to do.

In 1942, as Frosh, we entered with cautious anticipation. We found that Neenah High was really a nice place and then began to plunge into the activities. We made our initial plunge at the "Cub Mixer" and then began to join clubs. We entered into sports and attended sports events and dances. We displayed an amazing vitality as we dashed importantly around the halls, not bothering about who might be in our pathway, and not daring to look back to see who it was that we upset.

We were not well acquainted with the procedure of electing class officers, for after class elections were over, we found that Charles Bentzen was the only person nominated for an office. He became president, and then we held a special election and filled up the blank spaces. The final results showed that Charles Bentzen was president; Jean Sorenson, vice-president, William Wood, secretary; and William Krautkramer, treasurer. Then we agreed on Mr. Cummings as class advisor.

As sophomores, we went about doing routine things and did nothing exceptional. We elected Don Vought as president of the class; Nancy Pauers, vice-president; Paul Gross, secretary; and Phil Kuehl, treasurer.

Our third year at Neenah High, we elected William Krautkramer, Jean Achterberg, and Don Vought as class officers. The second semester, we were occupied with preparations for the Junior-Senior Prom. We spent a great deal of time planning and working on the decorations. The gym was decorated entirely in Dutch style, with a windmill, dike, and mural paintings depicting Dutch scenes. All the decorating was done by members of the junior class. After the Prom, we found our treasury much emptier, but when we thought of the fun that the Prom had given us, we felt amply repaid.

That brings us up to the fourth and last year—our senior year, which was full of busy activity and good times. This year our officers were Bill Wood, president; Wally Christenson, vice president; Diana Keck, secretary; and Phil Carey, treasurer. This year we wore the new senior ring which is to be the model for all the future rings for Neenah High. We were given aptitude tests, which were analyzed and used for guiding and advising the students about the fields of work which they might enter after graduation.

At the end of the year, we concluded our high school activities with the Prom. (This time we went as guests.) Then came the Senior Banquet, Baccalaureate, and graduation. We leave Neenah High with a feeling that we have spent four worthwhile years within its walls, and hope that we ourselves have contributed our bit to the school in return.

The Suave Seniors

Floyd Cummings, Adviser

As freshmen, we chose Mr. Floyd Cummings as our class adviser, and time has proved that we made a very wise choice. Mr. Cummings has proved to be a capable and willing director of our class activities. Under his direction last year's junior-senior prom was given, and this year he had charge of appointing the numerous commencement committees, who do most of the work in connection with graduation.

Class Officers: Dan Napuck, Armin Gerhardt, Mardelle Sawyer, and Velda Reimer

Be seeing you next year, same place, same time, same awful face. Dave Blank.

BILL

Best of luck. I hope to have you in a class next year.

Evelyn Floyd '45

The Jaunty Juniors

Looking back, September 1943 seems like a long time ago. That was when we juniors first became members of the Neenah High School student body. We made our entrance in quite the usual manner, which is as "frosh." With the same eager, fresh outlook typical of "Frosh" we found our way about. However, it was not until after the "Mixer" that we really felt like a vital part of the school and that we really belonged. We elected as class officers James Powers, Jack Kolkoski, Lorraine Jacobson, and Bill Tuttle as president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively. We then decided on Mr. Zenisek as class adviser. We sponsored a dance our first year, and perhaps because we thought we were very exclusive, held a private party for Frosh only. In June, we left our Freshman days behind and felt satisfied that we had made our mark at Neenah High for the first year, and had really shown what we could do.

The next September, we returned, feeling quite sure of our abilities, and feeling a little more prepared to meet the demands of High School life, with which we were better acquainted after a year's experience on the "trial and error" basis. As officers, we elected Willis Redlin, president; Tom Stilp, vice president; Ruth McCrary, secretary; and James Lenz, treasurer. We showed that we were an integral part of the student body by helping work for a proposed youth center.

This year, we veterans of two years in High School came back and cheerfully faced our third year. We elected as officers Dan Napuck, president; Armin Gerhardt, vice-president; Mardelle Sawyer, secretary; and Velda Reimer, treasurer. We have always shown a lot of school spirit, and this year, more than ever, having cheered our team to a fighting finish. This spring we were kept quite busy with the Junior-Senior Prom, which took place in May, and which was a highly successful social event of the season.

Thus three years of our high school life are gone, and we can look forward to a busy, exciting year as seniors, and we hope our last year will be as gratifying as the others.

Last September, the sophomores joyously returned to school, exultant in the knowledge that they were no longer the ignored creatures, commonly referred to as "freshmen." Their members comprised the largest class at the beginning of the school year. Wishing for competent leadership, they elected George Nickolas president, Pat Casperson vice-president, Beverly Westphal secretary, and Betty Fahrenkrug treasurer.

Many sophomores joined the Rocket Staff and the Cub Staff; several were in the Thespian production, "Spring Green"; others joined G.A.A., the Library Club, the Home Economics Club, the Conservation, Science-Hobbies, and Biology Clubs. A large number were in the Band and in either the Girls' or Mixed Choir. Some of the boys went out for football, and a few made the regular team. Most of the B-squad basketball team was made up of sophomores. When the track and tennis seasons came along, they participated wholeheartedly in those sports, too. The class has pep too, two of the cheerleaders being sophomores and many members participating in the two pep clubs.

The class sponsored a dance which was held on January 26 with the music furnished by the Star Dusters. With stars suspended from the ceiling and "stardust" on the floor, the students danced to "soft, soothing" music. Although the extreme low temperatures kept many from the dance that night, it was remarked to have been one of the most successful and best planned dances of the year.

Although they were not upperclassmen this year, the sophomores enjoyed at least being more-experienced than the freshmen. They were no longer the proverbial "greenhorns," who are never quite considered as being 100% human.

The high school as a whole has come to recognize this year's sophomore class as a body of able leaders and loyal school citizens with unlimited potentialities.

The Frolicking Frosh

Class Officers: David Martin, vice-president; Jack Neubauer, president; Peggy Ann Blank, secretary; Verlyn Thomack, treasurer.

The freshmen had their first taste of high school life at an orientation day held a few days before the actual opening of the scholarly portals. They seemed to like it, and after a full week of school, appeared in great number at the Cub Mixer where they were initiated, en masse, to the tune of having their shoes thrown in a gigantic heap, followed by a noisy pile-up, resulting in a mad scramble best designated as "shoes-ala-freshmen."

As usual, the upperclassmen adhered to their strict non-fraternization rule regarding frosh boys, but in spite of it, the frosh dove wholeheartedly into the school's activities and organizations.

Four of the freshmen won places in the school's first Thespian play of the year, "Spring Green." They were Peggy Blank, Patty Ryan, Audrey Blank, and Harland Ziemke.

Freshmen on the "B" Debate squad were John Vanderhiden and Bruce Schumacher, the affirmative, and Kurt Gross and Kirk Lawson, the negative.

The freshmen also participated in the humorous and serious declamation and oratory contests.

These 219 freshmen have taken a very large part in curricular and extra-curricular activities and are proud to be the promising graduating class of 1949.

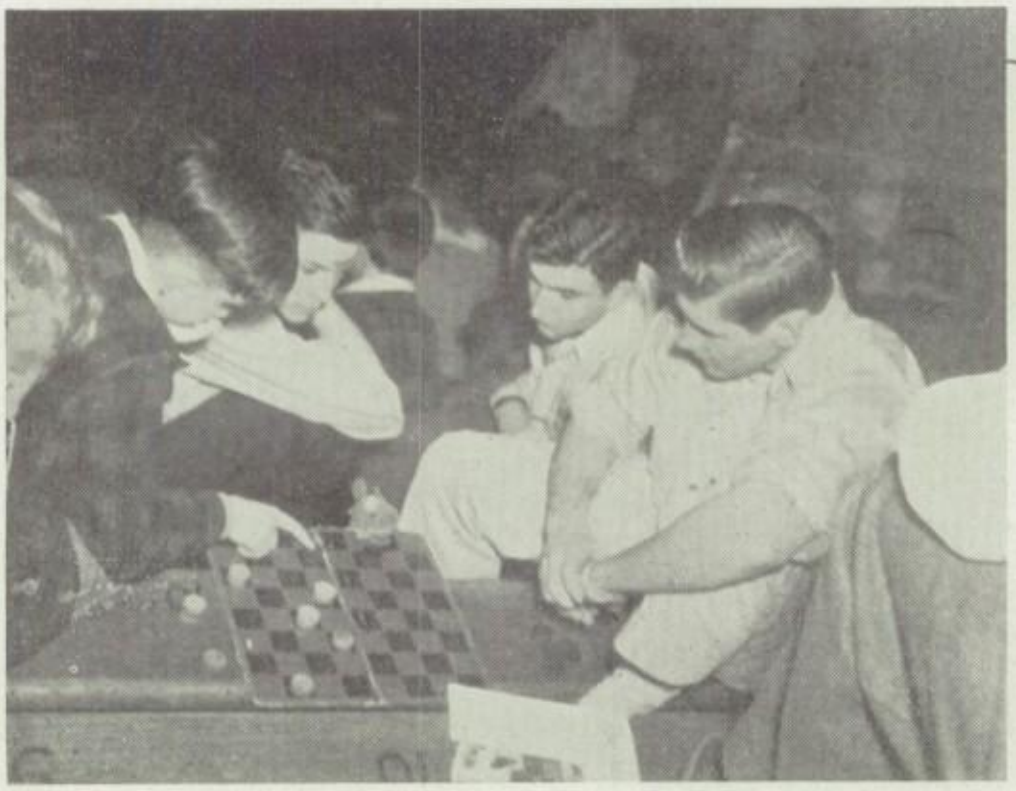
Intramurals



What is the next move?

Under the direction of Coach Ole Jorgenson an intramural program was carried on during the noon hour, sometimes in the high school gymnasium and sometimes on the athletic field. The purpose of this program is not only to provide recreation for those students who remain at school during the noon hour but also to develop them for the athletic squads of football, basketball, track and tennis. None of the sports in which they participate are overstrenuous.

The activities which were open for participation for the students as individuals or as teams were tag football, horseshoes, flashball, shuffleboard, handball, ping pong, ping pong doubles, rapid fire basketball, basketball golf, free throws, checkers, putting green, and class basketball.

In the class basketball tournament, the junior team composed of Tom Stilp, Willis Redlin, Jim Dyreby, Bill Marquardt, and Jim Richard Powers won the victors' crown with 3 wins and no losses. Sophomores ranked second with 2 wins, one loss; seniors third with 1 win and 2 losses and the frosh fourth with no wins and three losses. Coaches for the various teams were seniors on the varvarsity basketball squad. They were Darrell Schultz for freshmen; Lynn Cooper, sophomores; Carleton Giese, juniors; and Bill Krautkramer, seniors.

For All

Class winners of the annual checkers tournament were Emil Meyer, senior; Eugene Bednaroski, junior; Eric Johnsen, sophomore and Richard Muth, freshman.

Gerold Kuckenbecker, Bob Lieber, John Dowling and Darrell Schultz were the ping pong champions while Dan Napuck, junior, Lee Parrott, sophomore, and Darrell Schultz, senior, won in the various classes in the horseshoe tournament. Darrell Schultz became all-school champ.

Emil Meyer's tag football team composed of Walter Christensen, Robert Discher, Don Vought, Bill Krautkramer, and Emil, all of whom are seniors won the league championship.

All of the boys who participated in intramurals in their high school years have gained much in the way of physical fitness. Many of them were advanced to the varsity teams and became sports heroes.

Academic Opportunities

SUGGESTIONS FOR SELECTING COURSES AND REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION

1. To graduate from the Neenah High School, a student must have earned 17 credits in grades 9-10-11-12. A credit is a full year of work in a subject in which the class meets five times a week for 37 weeks or two one-semester courses. When the students meet the above requirements and are also recommended for good citizenship, they are considered as graduates and are presented a high school diploma.

2. In the senior high school the normal amount of work carried by students is 4 credits, not including physical education. To carry more than this, a pupil must have special permission from the principal.

3. No credit will be granted for one year of a foreign language except by special action of the faculty. The theory behind this regulation is that lasting values cannot be obtained except by two years of work in these fields. No credit will be allowed full year courses pursued but one semester. This is to discourage hasty, haphazard election of subjects.

4. Any pupil who may possibly attend college should take both algebra and geometry. Neither of these courses is required for graduation from our high school, but most colleges and universities require both as a part of their entrance requirements.

5. If at least two years of a foreign language are taken in high school, the student will have a freer choice of electives in college. Some colleges require from two to four units of foreign language for entrance. College credit will not in most cases be given for one unit of a foreign language if the student also presents two units in another foreign language. One unit in each of two foreign languages will not meet the requirement.

6. Most colleges will not accept more than four units in the field of manual arts, home economics, commercial courses, and music. At least eleven units must be in the academic field including English, mathematics, foreign languages, natural science, and social sciences.

7. It is advisable for students who plan to enter college to register for the fourth year of English. Freshman English in college or university seems to be a stumbling block to many. It is wise to be as well prepared as possible.

8. As far as possible, register for courses in the year in which you would normally take them. For example, chemistry is usually taken in the eleventh year. There are several advantages to be gained by keeping to a regular schedule:

a. The subjects are offered in the year in which experience has proved most suitable.

b. The sequence of subjects is important. A senior may suddenly decide that he wishes to take advanced mathematics. If he has left geometry for his senior year, he has made a mistake, since he cannot take geometry and advanced mathematics at the same time.

c. Your chances for success in your work are better in your own group and with your own classmates.

9. Plan definitely to take at least a few of those courses which are immediately practical: home economics, woodwork, machine shop, typing, bookkeeping, etc.

10. Every pupil is required by state law to take physical education. Only those pupils will be excused whose physicians certify that they are temporarily unable to participate in any gymnasium exercises. Pupils will be excused from certain types of exercises when their physicians certify that they are temporarily unable to participate in those forms of exercise.

11. Colleges require a record of good quality of work, evidence of good citizenship, and a recommendation by the principal. Some colleges specify requirements in certain subject fields; therefore, graduation from high school does not necessarily admit a student to college.

12. A wide variety of experiences in curricular and extracurricular fields is desirable for broadening interests and developing understandings.

13. Typing is a general course the first year. The second year of typing is strictly a vocational course.

Student Council

To be elected to the Student Council is considered one of the highest honors that can be conferred on a student of Neenah High School. The Council is organized on the basis of one representative from each home room with the exception of the study halls which have two. The purpose of the Council is to act in an advisory capacity with the students and faculty.

At the first meeting last fall, the officers of the Student Council were elected. They were Charles Bentzen, president; Phil Kuehl, vice-president; Bill Wood, treasurer; and Lois Hardt, secretary. Also at that first meeting they chose the members of the Executive Board of the Council, namely: Gordon Campbell, Patty Abel, and Spencer Dieckhoff. This Board meets to discuss school matters of importance and refers them to the whole council, for the purpose of saving time for the group. Various committees were appointed too: Hall and Grounds Committee: Carleton Giese, chairman, Jack Hoeper and Tom Stilp; the Recreation Committee: Don Vought, chairman, Roger Miller, Gordon Campbell, and Richard Neller; Bulletin Boards and Display Windows Committee: Angie Tembelis, chairman, Jane Steinfort, and James R. Johnson; School Improvements Committee: Phil Kuehl, chairman, Spencer Dieckhoff, Patty Abel, and Willis Redlin; and the Assembly Committee: Lois Hardt, chairman, Armin Gerhardt, Jr., Suzanne Hesselman, and Bill Wood.

In April, the Student Council sponsored a tag day to raise money for a scholarship fund, annually awarded to a deserving student. Some of the Council's accomplishments for the past year were buying new records for the juke box, keeping the service flag in the auditorium up to date, and arranging and keeping up to date the show cases and the bulletin boards.

The Student Council is an active and cooperative student organization with its purpose being to work for a better Neenah High School.

Two active organizations at Neenah High School are the Mixed Choir and Girls' Choir, both of which are under the capable direction of Miss Ruth Roper. This year something new in the way of Assembly programs was inaugurated by the choirs. This was the "assembly sing" and it was enthusiastically welcomed by the student body. The Mixed and Girls' Choirs both helped with these by presenting a few special numbers at the beginning of the program. After the audience had listened to the numbers rendered by the choirs, they themselves had a chance to "get in the show." The two choirs also combined to present a program of Christmas songs.

The work of both groups was brilliantly climaxed at the end of the year with the traditional Baccalaureate program in connection with the graduation ceremonies.

Band

The Neenah High School Band of eighty-five members is an active organization the year round. The band work is not seasonal like many of the other activities; instead it is organized for eleven months every year.

During the fall season, the band adds color to the festivities by playing and maneuvering between halves at the football games. During the winter season, a picked band of thirty-five pieces plays for all of the basketball games. During the winter concert season, fine programs are offered for the general public.

Each Friday, our Cadet Corps met for a period to gain experience in military drill and discipline, patterned after the regular army system. Under the leadership of Mr. Jorgenson and student officers who were selected on the basis of outstanding military performance, the boys made great headway.

The Cadets have helped in our school programs by presenting and retiring the colors at all the assemblies and by executing an excellent march and rifle drill at one of the basketball games.

This year, as in previous years, the Corps was inspected by officers of the state guard who gave an excellent report on their well disciplined drill. We can be proud that we have a military corps with such an illustrious record, two few of us realizing the time and effort the boys spent in practice drill to become such an efficient military unit.

Meeting the deadline

Cub

Unlike previous years, the Cub, this year, was written, supervised and edited by a journalism class composed of twenty-eight members and guided by Miss Ruth Quaerna. Meeting during the seventh period, they received instruction in journalistic writing and also wrote material for publication in the Cub. This new arrangement which increased the interest, allowed more time and utilized the ability of more students, resulted in a superb quality of each issue of the Cub.

The staff was headed by Charles Littlefield and Kitty Worzalla, co-editors; feature editor was Muriel Levy; heading the sports department was John Harwood; LaVerne Messman served as advertising manager; Lois Mielke as business manager. Reporters were Rita Baer, Chester Bell, Barbara Fuszard, Doris Hughes, James Jensen, James Kellett, James Landskron, Kirk Lawson, Jerome Liess, Marilyn Mertz, Dick Neller, Betty Sharpley, Joan Sullivan, and Angie Tembelis. The typing staff included Spencer Dieckhoff, Doris Hughes, and Jean Larson. Those on the mechanical staff were Duane Coenen, Elmer Hoest, and Emil Meyer.

Miss Able's direction and Mr. Poellinger's supervision made a very successful year for the Cub.

up for the annual. Some of the members of the editorial, business, typing and photography staffs met during the third period in the morning at which time work on the Rocket was conducted under the supervision of Mr. Meverden while Miss Meyer checked each write-up during this period.

Students are appointed as freshmen to work on the Rocket for a period of four years. Upperclassmen are appointed only as vacancies occur. An award pin is received by each member in his senior year.

This year's Rocket is the result of many months' work and is an excellent symbol of school life. Students and faculty advisors who worked on the Rocket hope that everyone will enjoy these fruits of their efforts.

The Rocket Staff, although gaining little in fame or reward, is one of the hardest working organizations in the school. Theirs is the job of publishing the annual, which is one of the most cherished memoirs of high school days. Being on the Rocket Staff means intensive work during school hours as well as after school and on vacation days. Rocket Staff members are busily occupied throughout the year taking pictures, writing reports on various clubs and school activities, and planning page make-

Debate

This year's debate topic was, "Resolved that every able-bodied male citizen of the United States should have at least one year of military training before attaining the age of twenty-four and after reaching the age of eighteen."

Under the able direction of Miss Helen Hughes, modern history teacher, the students who turned out for debate were divided into two groups. The "A" squad included Marilyn Thompson and Erling Dukerschein, negative, and Kitty Worzalla and Jean Eiss, affirmative. Members of the "B" squad were Kurt Gross and Kirk Lawson, negative, and Bruce Schumacker and John Vanderhiden, affirmative. Jean Anderson was alternate for the "A" team while Joanne Lobb served as alternate for the "B" squad.

The two teams went to New London to a debate and speech institute and then to Appleton for a practice debate. The "A" team entered a debate at Two Rivers and came out sharing second place honors with two other schools by winning four out of six debates.

Winning five out of six debates and tying for first place with Kaukauna, New London, and Kewaunee at a debate held at Appleton, the "A" squad was entitled to attend another debate at Stevens Point. At this debate the "A" team tied for second place and won the right to enter the state tourney at Madison. There the team met schools with more experience than they, but nevertheless gained a fourth place rating in the state along with several other schools.

The "B" squad took part in a debate at Kaukauna and captured first place laurels by winning four out of six debates and tying with Kaukauna and Appleton.

In addition to their competitive debates, both the "A" and "B" squads provided entertainment for several of the civic clubs by debating before them. They were enthusiastically received, and both the squads and their advisor, Miss Hughes, were highly commended for their scholarly discussions of a question of vital interest to every adult.

The two squads enjoyed an extremely successful season and deserve the heartiest of compliments.

Forensics

This year sixty students participated in the Forensics contest. These students were engaged in the following activities: humorous declamation, serious declamation, original oratory, non-original oratory, extemporaneous speaking and extemporaneous reading. The contestants were capably coached by Miss Paulson, who was assisted by Miss Harris, Mrs. Cramsie, Miss Raine, Miss Peterson, Mr. Beger, and Mr. Thom. A preliminary elimination contest was held at Neenah High School. Winners of this who went to the contest at Menasha High School were: Ruth McCrary and Joan Tipler in the field of extemporaneous reading; Kitty Worzalla and Erling Dukerschein in extemporaneous speaking; Jean Eiss and Paula Stedman in serious declamation, and Rita Baer and Muriel Levy in humorous declamation.

At the Menasha contest Rita Baer, Erling Dukerschein, and Joan Tipler received A ratings in humorous declamation, extemporaneous speaking, and reading, respectively, thus giving them the privilege of going on to the Kimberly district contest. There, Joan Tipler and Erling Dukerschein received A ratings in extemporaneous reading and extemporaneous speaking and so went to the state contest at Madison where Joan received a C rating and Erling a B rating.

On April 27, the Northeastern Forensic Contest was held at Kaukauna at which Neenah High School was represented by Patricia Abel and Betty Christofferson in extemporaneous reading; Marilyn Thompson and Charles Littlefield participated in extemporaneous speaking while Audrey Blank presented a humorous declamation and Beverly Heider, a serious declamation. In the field of oratory, James Jensen and Charles Diestler were competitors with non-original orations while John Vanderhiden competed with an original oration.

This contest at which nine schools of the Northeastern Conference vied for honors brought to a close an unusually busy forensic season.

Biology Club

After a "recess" of one year, the Biology Club was reorganized by Mr. Gundlach and under his leadership, staged a successful come back.

Starting their program in September the members elected these officers to lead them: Lois Hardt as president; Mavis Peterson, program chairman; Joan Tipler, secretary; and Suzanne Hesselman, treasurer.

All year through they engaged in numerous activities. During the fall months, they enjoyed a number of hikes and making a study of leaves, birds, and other wonders of nature. They even had a fall picnic in Nelson's woods. In December they reveled in a big Christmas party at which presents were exchanged and games were played and even "black cows" were served. During the winter, when they were unable to take hikes, they concentrated on individual projects. Some of these included growing special plants, feeding and experimenting with fish, and hatching eggs in an incubator.

Beginning in March and continuing through June, bird hikes were taken.

Finally after all their biological efforts, the club had an exhibit on April 10 and 11 at which the projects were displayed. It was quite successful, and many visitors at the exhibits commented on the fine work which had been done. Even after disbanding for a year, the club felt that it had had a successful season.

The Conservation Club

This year the Conservation Club was directed by Mr. Gerhardt and the officers who include president Carl Zenisek, Vice-president Armin Gerhardt, Jr., Secretary Jean Christoph, Vice-secretary Jeanette Thorson and Treasurer Mavis Peterson. The board includes Virginia Bollman, Diana Keck, Tom Stilp, John Haselow, and Tom Kuehl.

This year the whole filing system was changed. The hours of work can now be transferred from year to year. In this way, more members can gain credits for graduation.

Works for the Future

The Conservation Club this year installed a coke machine in the gymnasium for the benefit of the students and faculty.

Have you ever seen the Club's collections? They added many shells to their shell collection until now there are more than 250. There has been a shell committee to see that these are all named and filed. Then there is the collection of "our feathered friends." These have been arranged in a very attractive show case.

Many birds have survived the winter due to the many feeders. There are many feeding stations in and around the city. All types of birds have been fed, and some feeders have kept records of the different kinds seen.

The club sponsored a rabbit trapping contest and offered prizes for the 25th, 50th, and 75th rabbit. These little "troublemakers" eat off the shoots of bushes and shrubs.

The Club sponsored a good ol' fashioned barn dance held on the first of November.

In the early part of December the Conservation Club invited Mrs. Clara Hussong to speak on "Wisconsin Wild-Life." Mrs. Hussong, who writes many newspaper columns is a well-known Wisconsin naturalist.

The club had a very active and profitable year.

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association which has been in existence since 1923, at present is composed of seventy girls. Lois Hardt is president, Patty Blair, vice president, and Nancy Pauer, secretary-treasurer. Nancy Dieckhoff is the freshman point recorder; Marion Gerhardt performs the job for the sophomores. The juniors have two girls, Velda Reimer and Nancy Parker, recording points for them, and Jean Larson records for the seniors. Their advisor is Mrs. Florence K. Oberreich, who is assisted in tennis by Miss Ruth Sawyer.

G. A. A. awards are given to the girls for attending the meetings and participating in games. A circle of red and white, on which are the letters GAA, is given to the freshmen, and numerals designating the year of graduation, to the sophomores. The juniors are awarded a large N with the letters GAA on the crossbar. The senior girls may earn a star of red and white. To win these awards, field hockey and volleyball are played in the fall; winter sports include volleyball and basketball; and in the spring, baseball, tennis and archery complete the year's activities.

The social program includes a pot luck supper, a swim at an indoor pool, and an outdoor picnic for G. A. A. members. An all-school sweater dance is sponsored by the G. A. A. This is a gala occasion set off by sweaters galore—all shapes and sizes. They are not only worn by the dancers, but trim the gymnasium with many color schemes. Yes, fun is had by all.

Cheerleaders

Go Neenah win that game
Keep your spotless fame
We will cheer you all the while
While you fight and fight! Rah-rah!
We'll cheer 'til echoes loud resound
For our joys are all profound
Then we'll sing to Alma Mater
Neenah High!

With our cheerleaders leading us in our school song, our Neenah High teams were spurred on to many a victory by our faithful squad of cheerleaders.

Following a tryout in the auditorium, several faculty members selected a squad of cheerleaders who elected as their captain Ramona Nelson, a junior and as assistant captain Dick Wege, also a junior. Miss Brunswick became their new advisor this year.

At the football and basketball games, the cheerleaders were "in there pitching" all of the time. When the proceedings were not the best for the team, they were right there to get the support of the students and townspeople cheering for the squad and showing them that everyone was interested in them.

They developed some new cheers which were put into use at various intervals and which aroused new and higher interest. A new chant was adopted but proved none too popular among the students and faculty, particularly the faculty. Although "All You Rockets Stand Up and Holler" was not an official cheer, it usually brought down the house! Even the townspeople liked it!

This squad of cheerleaders composed of Ramona Nelson, Dick Wege, Jerry Achterberg, Jean Collipp, Nancy Single, Barbara Fahrenkrug and Darleen Schuette deserve a great vote of thanks, because many a time the teams of Neenah High School were pulled through to glorious victories, because they knew that the cheerleaders were doing their level best toward the development of better school spirit.

U-rah! Rah! Neenah!

Football—1945

Neenah High School's 1945 gridmen completed one of the most successful seasons in many a year by retaining their crown as Twin Cities champions and tying for second place honors in the Northeastern Wisconsin conference.

On September 28, the local squad was victorious in their tilt against the New London Bulldogs by chalking up a 24–13 score. This game began the list of conference contests. On October 13 the first home game of the season ended 24–12, a Rocket victory over the Shawano Indians. The following week, October 20, the Rockets suffered their first conference spill, 33–0, when they traveled to the home of the Galloping Ghosts of Kaukauna. During the Rocket-Ghost tilt, right halfback Bill Wood and lineman Bob Pfeifer received injuries which prevented their taking an active part in play for the remainder of the season. Bill suffered a broken ankle and Bob a broken collar bone. Clintonville arrived in Neenah the following Saturday, October 27, fully prepared for action, and action it was for four long quarters with bright Rocket skies turning to gloom over the 14–12 defeat served them by the Truckers. Gloom then returned to glory when the Red Rockets marched up and down the field of their own gridiron the following Saturday, November 3, in the most fabulous and important pigskin classic of the season. Menasha's Blue Jays were trounced more than literally as the 27–0 score placed Neenah in the winning column for the second consecutive year.

Coach Paff

Prelude to Success

They Played Their Last

Gridiron days of Neenah High School were concluded for the graduating seniors this last fall after the Neenah-Menasha tilt. The school benefited by their valor and sportsmanship, and even though they will play no more for Neenah High School their ability and fine sportsmanship will not be forgotten.

We bid them all farewell and hope that in the future the benefits they gained in their pigskin experience at Neenah High School will be a profit to their lives forever.

Homecoming 1945

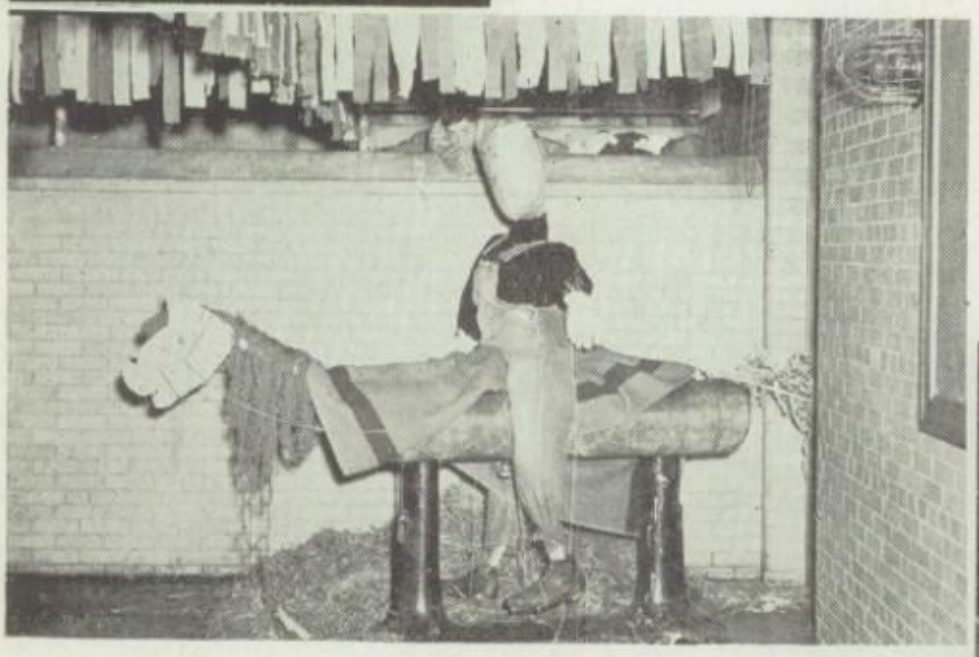
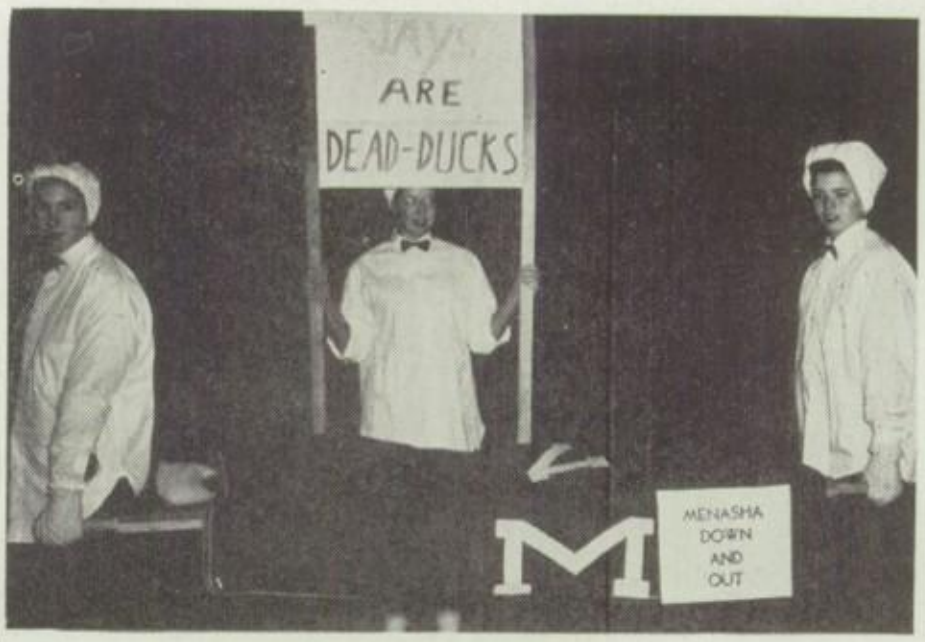
The Royal Court

Flames of Prospective Defeat



The Fiery Charger

Festivities of the gala occasion got off to a fiery start on November 2, the evening before the game, when a giant pep parade, led by the high school band, marched up and down the streets and avenues of the city. To add to the colorful spectacle, hundreds of cheering students tramped gaily along, interspersed with cleverly decorated floats representing ten clubs.



Live Jays to Dead Ducks

The homecoming festivities continued on the following day at the athletic field. With a blare of trumpets announcing the arrival, the queen and her court made a dramatic entrance and were introduced to the spectators just before the kick-off of the Neenah-Menasha game.

As a fitting climax for the 1945 Neenah Homecoming and to celebrate the gridiron victory, the elated students gathered in the gym that evening for a Harvest Dance, sponsored by the Home Economics Club under the supervision of Mrs. Lohr.

Thus the most festive homecoming in many a year came to a close with everyone feeling joyously satisfied with the homecoming festivities and glorious victory.

COACHES Zenisek, Jorgensen, Leaman and Beger

Neenah vs. Menasha

27-0 was the final score that November 3 when our Neenah Rockets trounced the Blue Jays of Menasha in the annual Twin City pigskin classic.

The first play after Neenah's kick-off was the Jays' downfall since Neenah recovered the ball to make a touchdown when Menasha fumbled the kick. Jack Ducklow was credited with the score when Tom Stilp lateralled on a round end run from the Menasha thirty-three yard line. Stilp's pass to Lynn Cooper behind the goal made the score 7-0.

After returning the Rocket kick-off to their thirty yard line, the Jays were forced to punt on the fifty with the ball going out of bounds on the Neenah fifteen. Soon the Rockets had advanced sixty yards via a first down, placing them on the Menasha seventeen. Again Stilp went around end lateralling to Cooper who transported the oval across the goal line. The score then was 13-0 since the attempted pass for the extra point was incomplete.

The Rockets started the second period by carting the pigskin to the Menasha six yard stripe to be halted by an intercepted pass. Menasha, after gaining two first downs again, was forced to punt with the ball going out on the Neenah forty. Neenah scored again on the fifth play after gaining possession when Jim Kuehl carried the oval across, and Stilp kicked the extra point making the tally 20-0 at the end of the half.

period was taken by Jim Dyreby who advanced it to the twenty-eight yard stripe. Shaking off three tacklers on his way, Jack Ducklow drove forward seventy-two yards for his second score of the day after which Tom Stilp kicked the extra point to make a 27-0 tally.

After returning Neenah's kick-off to their thirty yard line, the Jays made a series of downs which placed them on the fifty where they fumbled, with Oscar Olson recovering. This was short-lived, when the Rockets fumbled, after Stilp's long pass to Jim Johnson with the Jays recovering.

In the last quarter, Olson again recovered a Menasha fumble following Rausch's (Menasha) fifteen yard run for a first down. The Rockets marched deep into Jay territory only to lose possession by way of a fumble. From here, the Jays advanced the pigskin to the Rocket thirty yard marker but were halted by four incompleted pass plays. Neenah regained possession and kept possession of the oval until the final gun sounded.

During the fourth period Coaches Arthur Paff of Neenah and Eric Kitzman of Menasha made use of their reserve squads, and during the game every reserve player on both squads, was used.

Varsity

Neenah High School's varsity basketball squad became widely known this year for its numerous victories over the strongest teams in the conference and various sections of the state. The final tally showed that in the twenty-three games which were played, including conference, non-conference, regional and sectional contests, seventeen were victories while six were defeats.

Steering the Rocket crew from the quarter deck were Co-Captains Darrell Schultz and Lynn Cooper who took turns acting as floor captains of the various cage contests.

Fiery and fast was the Rocket delegation this year. They defeated the supposedly great Kaukauna Ghosts three times, twice in conference play and once in the Regional tournament at Menasha. In the Menasha tournament, the Rockets became the Regional champions by defeating the Ghosts 27–26.

Menasha's Blue Jays also fell twice before the mighty Rockets, once in conference play and the second time during the Regional tournament.

When the Shawano Indians tripped the Rockets early in the season, everyone gasped with horror and it looked like Neenah's finish. They proved, however, that they would not be beaten and even might have won the state championship if the Reedsville Panthers had not been too mighty for them.

This year Coach Jorgensen and his team had a fine record, as usual. We only hope as he and his boys do that next year and all those in the future will be even better.

Coach Gundlach

Objective Fieldgoal

B Team

Under the leadership of Coach Gundlach, the B-Basketball squad participated in a new and radically different type of season. The greater share of last season's squad were advanced to the varsity, the ranks being filled with sophomores who are former members of the 1944-45 freshman squad.

Conference competition this season was somewhat keener than in the past. For the first time in a number of seasons the "B" squad did not become the undisputed champions of the Northeastern Wisconsin Conference of "B" basketball squads.

Great experience has been gained by the boys who played on the B team this year, for they are quickly and surely developing into cagemen of true varsity caliber. They will help fill the vacancies on the varsity squad in the coming seasons.

Competitive school spirit is always developed by such sports as basketball. Playing on the B team prepares the boys for the varsity, for they learn all the techniques of shooting, passing, dribbling and all the other phases of the game along with a keen code of sportsmanship. All of these qualities are desired in a varsity squad for every man must be able to keep his wits about him in order that championship teams can bring honor to the squad members and their school.

Coach John Gundlach has worked with boys of the B team for the past few years. He knows all the angles of the game which aid him in developing the smooth and precise technical qualities of good basketball squads.

The team and coach deserve a great deal of praise for their untiring efforts during one of the most difficult basketball seasons.

Co-Captain Darrell Schultz played his third and last season of interscholastic basketball this year. He was the only unanimous choice for a guard position on an all-conference team elected by the various coaches, revealing and respecting his ability to play a consistently good brand of basketball worthy of the praise of all.

Co-Captain Lynn Cooper along with Darrell Schultz is a man who made good progress in the two years that he played on the varsity. He won renown for his handling of the forward position.

James Johnsen was another outstanding forward who played his first year on the varsity squad. He played a type of game deserving the highest praise and resulting in his being elected to captain the squad for the 1946-47 season.

Tommy Stilp, one of the speediest guards in the conference, became well known by all the fans for his fast ball handling and long well-placed shots from the center of the court.

Carleton Giese returned again to the first string where he swished those well-known hook shots from his center position, making him one of the important cogs in the Rocket set of gears.

Jim Dyreby, a junior, playing his first year as a varsity center, played the cage game in true style with fast rebound work and hook shots, attained to some degree by his great height.

Bill Krautkramer forged ahead this year with his faking plays along with some fast rebound work. His fiery spirit and his dependability made him a high caliber guard.

Bill Wood, another forward, who was kept out of active play for the early part of the season, showed all the fans that he was tops as a ball handler and a push-shot man.

Fred Engel was a tall, speedy forward who could make the most of his physical qualities for obtaining jump balls and rebounds for the squad from the very moment that he appeared on the floor.

Jim Powers also came to the varsity squad this season as a guard. He has a great fighting spirit which will help to make a fine team next year.

Roger Miller played his first season at forward on the varsity squad this year and did a fine job of ball handling and rebound work.

This squad of eleven hard fighting cagemen fought their way up the ladder of fame this year to become conference and regional champions, bowing in the sectional play-offs to the mighty Reedsville Panthers who are now the Wisconsin State Champions.

The varsity parade has passed, and although seven of the squad will play no more for their Alma Mater, their fame marches on.

Highlights of an Outstanding Year

AUGUST

20-24—Summer bliss is interrupted by thoughts of school—sale of books starts.
27-31—More books sold (of course we start studying them right away.)
31—Orientation day; Frosh get acquainted with the school.

SEPTEMBER

4—School starts; school rules read to the sleepy-eyed students. First issue of the "Cub." First auditorium session with Mr. Mennes as the speaker. Rocket staff has first meeting. All students fill out enrollment cards.
5—First meeting for boys to learn to run the movie machine. (Mr. Gundlach is the instructor.)
6—Students were found eating lunch out in the yard—(trying to recapture the mood of a summer picnic?)
7—Schedule changes—grand rush on Mr. Mennes' office.
Swimming and dancing at the "Rec."
8—"Cub Mixer"—Who is the biggest Frosh wolf? Who gets the key to Maizie's room? Bobby Hughes furnished the music.
10—Clubs start organizing this week. Kids are submerged with piles of school work. Now the Frosh know what big brother or sister meant by home work.

Advertisements

Dear Advertisers,

We, the members of the Rocket Staff and the students of Neenah High School wish to extend our gratitude for the fine manner in which you have helped to make this Rocket a success.

As future citizens we hope to show our appreciation by patronizing those advertisers who contributed to the success of the 1946 yearbook.

Sincerely yours,

Rocket Staff
